Guided Remote Learning Program SY2021-2022

Welcome to SY 2021-2022!

Our children are precious

We know your children are precious and their safety is our utmost concern.

Rosemont is ready to strengthen our Home-School collaboration thru remote learning during these trying times.

Although different from the traditional educational set-up that many of you have gotten used to, our Guided Remote Learning Program still ensures the TOTAL DEVELOPMENT of your child, which is the heart of Rosemont's curriculum.

Our Online Platform

In line with all PAREF Preschools, we will use GOOGLE CLASSROOM to facilitate remote learning.

Your teachers will provide the appropriate content to aid in your child's learning from home.

They will ensure that your child stays connected to our online classroom for only the recommended screen time for their age.

Learning Space

Your child will benefit from a dedicated learning space free from distractions that is well-lit, well ventilated and conducive to learning and movement.

This space should be accessible to adults who will supervise during the session.

Provide your child with a table/desk and chair and a container/shelf/bag or tub that will contain the materials he or she may need.

Your Child's Disposition Towards Online Learning

Your child may need to get used to this new way of learning. Involve your child in the preparation of his/her learning space. This way, your child feels a sense of ownership and will understand that this space is where he/she stays to learn and communicate with his/her teachers and classmates.

Establish a routine that involves enough sleeping time at night, and enough time to prepare for class in the morning.

What do the children wear?

Nursery children will wear their PE t-shirt with shorts or pants to make sure they are comfortable while having fun during their online class.

Pre-Kinder and Kinder children will wear their school uniform. This helps set the tone for your child when he attends his online class.

Rosemont will be ready with your child's uniform (should you need one) and prepare this for pick-up or for it to be sent to your homes.

Do I need to supervise my child? Will assessments be given?

There's no better time to practice Home-School Collaboration to ensure the success of our children in learning even at this uncertain time.

Your child will need your help in accessing our online class, and your supervision during assigned tasks.

T.E.A. Time (Teachers Evaluation & Assessment of Students) will be given one-on-one online, until the time that we are all safe to go back to our classrooms.

What if I am not ready to send my child to school even when the Government allows children to return to school?

You may have your reasons for not wanting your child to return physically to school even when the Philippine Government allows it.

You may opt to keep your child home and continue his/her remote learning for the rest of the school year. Your teachers at Rosemont understand and will continue to provide quality education thru remote learning.

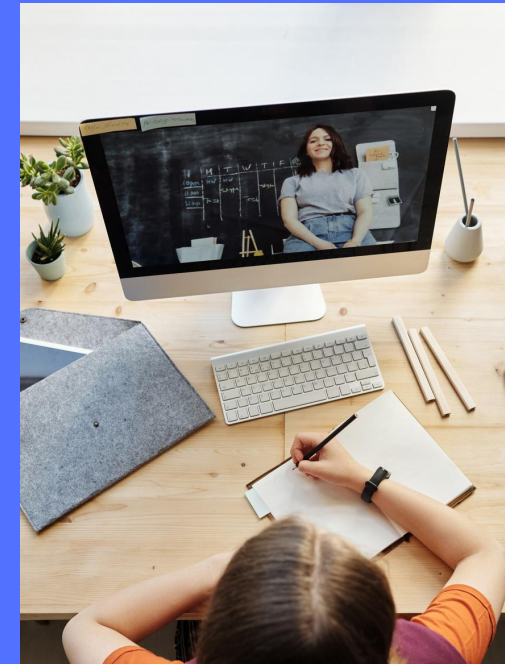

Guided Remote Learning vs. Homeschooling

Guided Remote Learning

With guided remote learning, Rosemont teachers deliver our program thru an online platform. Teachers will take the lead in your child's education and make sure they understand what is being taught, conduct assessments, and ensure mastery of lessons. Children still have a routine to follow on their school days with activities that are done online and at home.

In true PAREF Rosemont spirit, our Home-School collaboration ensures that your children will not be left behind even during these times. Your child will need your supervision given their young age in some of their online class activities.

Homeschooling

Homeschooling involves learning modules which are to be facilitated by parents or guardians that work around their own schedule and at their own pace.

The Rosemont Touch

An online class ratio of one teacher to every 6 students for Pre-Kinder and Kinder, and 5-6 students for Nursery will ensure that your child gets quality education even while on remote learning.

Do I need to prepare materials for my child's everyday activity?

School books, writing notebooks and other materials such as construction paper, crayons, pencils, erasers, and even manipulatives will be lovingly prepared by your teachers at Rosemont and will be ready for pick-up or delivery to your homes while we are under remote learning.

Data Policy

Our Rosemont Guided Remote Learning Program is intended to provide online learning opportunities to the students while at the safety and comfort of their home during this time of the pandemic. It also aims to check on your child's performance during online or remote learning, as well as the teachers' ability to conduct lessons online, assess, evaluate, and improve their teaching approach.

All sessions of the teachers with their students will be recorded. We assure you that the privacy of your children and your home will be kept strictly confidential and solely for the above named purposes.
